REVELRY AT BANQUET.

United Order of the Golden Cross Dines at Freund's.

The United Order of the Golden Cross held its twenty-first annual banquet at Freund's last night. It was a happy throng that sat down around the long banquet table and partook of a sumptuous repast. John H. A. Fowler, grand commander of the order, acted as toastmaster. Before the first course was served a vocal solo was rendered by Miss Jennie Hollinberger, and Thomas L. Jones followed with a pleasing selec-

The menu was unique, in that it contained the names and numbers of the fourteen commanderles in the District, which were used to describe the different courses in a play on words.

Prof. Court F. Wood responded to a toast, "The ladies," Andrew Wilson followed with "The man," and Judge O. B. Hallan responded to "The order." The organization was founded at Knoxville, Tenn., on July 4, 1876, and it bears the distinction of being the first order of its kind to admit women to membership. and during its years of existence it has disbursed more than $1,500,000 in death Among those present were Joseph B. Bailey, Ralph S. Bailey, Mrs. Luella Bailey Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Austin, Miss Annie Austin William Muirhead, P. J. Coutes, Mr. and Mrs. Frank I. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. The international aviation meet, which ias been striven for by six cities until he Aero Club of America entered into an agreement with the Wrights, has be a hot cake, and the present indica-

f the Aero Club of America and the oint aviation committee of Baltimore and Washington, at the office of Chairman C. J. Bell yesterday, terms of this agreement were explained. According to impact, the Wrights will get a big ntage of the receipts. The meet wil an expensive proposition for any city

Costs Considerably More. The $100,000 offer of Washington and Baltimore, in case the meet is held at College Park, is still open, but it is feared that under the terms to be dictated by the Wrights, it would cost considerably more to bring it here.

New York, it was stated, has becom ndifferent during the last week, and if he Washington-Baltimore bid is strong nough, and the Wrights are as anxious during the past visits, College Park stands the best chance.

Lawrence L. Gillespi, of New York, was spokesman for the Aero Club of America yesterday. He said the course committee of the Aero Club will meet next Tuesday night, when the several bids will be discussed, and a decision probably reached. He explained that accerding to the agreement with the Wrights, an advance cash consideration must be paid them and a good propor ion of the receipts guaranteed. Subcommittee Is Appointed, The following resolution, placing the entire matter in the hands of a subcom mittee, was adopted: That a subcommittee, consisting of Col. Jerome H. Joyce, chairman of the Baltimore committee: Charles J. Bell chairman of the Washington committee Millard F.
